How we can help:

Where are you in your journey... Are you looking to evolve from startup to stalwart? Are you changing strategy either through choice or necessity? Or are you taking a new proposition to market? Whichever it is we can bring value to the process and work with you to explore these answers and growing pains and bring clarity to your brand. This is how:

Discover

A two hour session to explore your proposition, business goals, positioning, key findings from your market and opportunities for innovation and disruption.

Imagine

This is the first look at your potential brand identity displayed as a series of mock ups. These will be accompanied by an explanation of our thinking.

Be

At a minimum we will tidy up your logo to ensure the technicalities of the design align with today's needs. In some cases a redesign is required and would include an discovery phase of its own. Either way you will be supplied with a range of logo file types to suite any print, digital or social media scenario.

See

A palette of colours, individual to your brand, and designed to work across print and digital. These will be supported by a selection of fonts and recommend typography.

Accessorise

Your brand is likely to be accompanied by a suite of assets that further make it individual to you. Items such as icons, graphic/shapes and imagery will be custom made to maintain your brand's individuality

Liberate

To fully realise your new look brand identity we will hand you all the assets you need to bring your brand to life. The assets will be accompanied by a short summary of how to use your identity in the form of a brand book.

Share

We will work with you throughout the process and give you our professional advice. We include provision for two further hour long meetings and unlimited support over phone, Skype and email.
